Features Key:

- Plot: You are a consultant, travelling the USA. You will be offered tours of battlefields, historic sites and interesting locations to visit, while you are on the road. At each location, you will have to make tough decisions about what you are going to do with your tour. Many interesting and varied locations are provided, depending on your choices.
- Minimalistic Pacing: Between locations, your car is going to offer you some time to nap and rest. However, the opportunities to use those resting opportunities are minimal. In most locations, you will be presented with a problem of a kind that you can't solve or can't afford to get any help from, no matter how badly you need to get some rest. The choices you can make throughout each location, every week is very limited. As a consequence, you are forced to choose wisely, or you are in for a very long journey.

- Permadeath: Just because you get a short opportunity to rest between locations, doesn't mean that you get to live longer than the normal number of locations. Unfortunately, after a point, you don't even get that, because you won't be able to find new locations. When you are in the town or location that you are in now, you will have to choose to either finish the task, or get killed. It is not possible to return to locations you were at previously, regardless of your current predicament - this means no replaying of the locations.
- Dynamic Events: Each location has a number of events which occur. You will need to keep in mind that due to your current predicament, you will not be able to earn money, or complete the events. But whatever you are left with, you will need to use it to get places, and complete the locations as soon as you can. Most events require a certain amount of money
