Shine2 S moderator Drakensang Online team ... Hello GUMTAX and welcome to the DSO EN Forums. First of all, this is BigPoint. Secondly, if you want, please contact ... as you know. If you want me to be able to talk to you, please find a way to send me a message. I would actually like to discuss with you in person, not on the forum. Thirdly, this ...  I have been in this hospital for three months now. I was brought here at the end of September, but I realized almost immediately that it would last. I came here with heavy bleeding, but the doctor said it was nothing compared to what was going on inside me. On my fourth day in the hospital, Katya came to me and informed me that I wouldn't be alone in the room. -What - I was dumbfounded by the news. -Nothing at all. You need to get acquainted with the girls who will live with you in the same room. -- Why? -- Well, maybe you'll like them-- he laughed. -- I don't want to meet anyone! -I was getting angry. -- I have a friend who lives in an apartment with me. -- They live in an apartment, too," he said and laughed again. -All right, I'm off. And you think about it. He left, leaving me completely confused. Why do I have to meet his girls? I don't want a relationship with any of them. It's bad enough I'm already attracted to this guy! -Come on," he said as he walked into the room. -- They're waiting for us. We left the apartment. There was a black sports car waiting for us downstairs. The license plate number was "123." We got in the back seat. I put my seat belt on. -Why is the license plate the same as the car's? -I asked. -- So everyone would know we were together. -- He smiled as he started the car. We raced down the evening highway. The lights of nighttime cities flashed on both sides. Sometimes we saw cars, but they stopped when they saw us. We sat in silence, but we had a lot to talk about. We were happy. I was sitting in the car, and he was standing on top of the car. -- I love you," I said softly. -- I love you, too," he said, and he jumped onto the track. I squeezed my eyes shut and grasped the steering wheel tightly. -- What's he doing?" I asked as the car braked sharply. -- He jumped," my mother told me. I opened my eyes and saw she was crying. -- He's dead... -- she whispered. -- No, no," I said. -- He's alive. I saw him. He's in the hospital. -- What hospital -- I didn't even know what she meant. -- The hospital for the insane, she said. -Who put him there? -I asked her. -- I don't know," she said, "but I heard that one of his colleagues. -Why? -- He stole money from them. -- What -- that really surprised me. -- I don't know how much. But they were following him. -- And what -- I said. -- when he stole, they caught him and arrested him and put him in the hospital. And they're still guarding him. I didn't even know what to say.
