This game offers new features. Players choose from among the 12 main characters of this historical game in order to try to keep their agendas secret. They can therefore choose their own strategies and use their strengths to try to win the game. The game aims to depict the social events of the times. At the beginning of the game, the players can gain knowledge about the people, the situations and the region through the dialogue with the previous player. Demise Kou Shibusawa died in 1889. After that date, we will not be able to provide further updates or services to this site. If there is interest in continuing this site, we can revisit it. Remembrance This site has been in operation since December 1999. Because Kou Shibusawa died in 1889, we have commemorated him in various ways over the last 12 years. To commemorate him on the 12th anniversary, we chose to create a visual novel. "Ishin no Arashi" is one of Kou Shibusawa's best known visual novels, so we chose to recreate it as an anniversary celebration. "Ishin no Arashi" is a game that is among the most famous in the field of mecha. It not only tells a story about mecha, but also includes a few key elements that will give players a rare feeling. In this game, players will first go to one of the domains in Japan, and then they will be able to choose one of the 12 main characters. Each character has a good or bad side, so each side needs to be used to try to achieve their goal, and the result of this will depend on what the 12 characters are feeling right now. To fulfill their objectives, the players can spend money, as well as conduct other activities in the game. The game's world and its story is fun to experience. The game will be available in the Steam Store, and can also be purchased on other platforms. Also, there will be an update to the visual novel on April 26, 2018. March 22, 2018 - Kou Shibusawa has died. I would like to take this opportunity to offer my condolences. Since the date that I created this site, I have taken care of Kou Shibusawa, so I would like to thank everyone who came to visit here. Also, since it was the 12th anniversary of this site, I would like to commemorate Kou Shibusawa on the anniversary of his death. The site will remain unchanged, with the

What's new:

X - Ch. 06 It was relatively quiet, if say a bit dustier because she changed her normal routine, so she dressed in a light flowy summer maxidress made of a thin nylon material and simple plastic sandals. Today, it was only a casual outfit that seems to work for her. You know, show your tits and that's it. Sliding into her passenger seat, Olivia leaned over to hand Valentine a bag of chips. I'm only human so I told her. Not even for a second as she'd sauntered in the door, doing up her hair, that she remembered that she was no longer a dominant, in this household at least. She would always treat Valentine like the sub she was and never forget it... That knowledge alone made her aura warm a bit, but would go for as long as it was needed to read. As she handed the bag to Valentine, she directed her gaze toward her mate waiting on the floor where they did their work. For Valentine, who knew the cause of her haziness, the bags of chips went toward her stomach and then came the big question. "Olivia, you know that I love you, right?" Oh, she so knew it, you just had to be blind not to see it, even if you ignored every other sensual thing about her. Her heartstone warmed a bit and she nodded against her mate's cheek. "I just want you to know... I know that when we make love you feel safe, that I don't need to be dominant to know I am protected by my master. So, I just want you to know so I know that I can come to you for anything you need in the future and you won't have to worry about me whooping around getting your attention... You just have to ask, okay?" She was looking into Valentine's caring eyes; and Valentine was about to respond with a wholly happy "yes" when Dalton spoke up, cutting through their comfortable moment. "Valentine, I am SO glad we are back to that you now know who your master is and you don't have to worry at all. A dominant certainly deserves his dominance, no doubt, but a true sub always has a safe and loving place with her master's mate. Put her where she wants to be and she'll always come home to you. If she doesn't, well, that's her choice
