FIFA 22 introduces “HyperMotion Technology,” which uses motion capture data collected from 22 real-life players playing a complete, high-intensity football match in motion capture suits. The data collected from player movements, tackles, aerial duels and on-ball actions is used to power FIFA 22 gameplay. HyperMotion Technology offers many new gameplay options, like run-ins, additional ball controls and dribbling that feel more natural and more like they would in real life. HyperMotion Technology also takes advantage of the latest artificial intelligence systems and technologies, including FIFA Advanced Referee, FIFA Ultimate Team and LIVE NOW, all allowing players to compete even in more demanding matches. Improved Player Interactions

Improved Player Interactions FIFA Ultimate Team The most important additions in this year’s FIFA Ultimate Team mode are new player cards and a new manager cards. Card Improvements FIFA 22 introduces a new “3-Star” card to the FIFA Ultimate Team arsenal. This card can be obtained by completing gameplay challenges, collecting packs of the card type at the card store, or by completing custom challenges. The “3-Star” card is available for $9.99 (on Xbox One or PS4). FIFA 22 also introduces a new player card. This card can be obtained by purchasing packs of the card type at the card store or by paying €59.99 on FIFA.com. The player card has four different levels. Level 1 players are your typical collection of 25 players. Levels 2, 3, and 4 represent more legendary, elite or one-of-a-kind players. For more information on these new player cards, check out the Ultimate Team Docs found in the Champions' Guide. New Manager Cards

New Manager Cards In FIFA 22, there are more than 1,600 new player cards in a range of nine different categories, including Superstars, Defenders, Defenders Without Shits, and Brutes, to name a few. In addition to these player cards, FIFA Ultimate Team also introduces a range of new manager cards, allowing players to collect some of the most legendary coaches in football. Team Of The Year

Team Of The Year The teams from The Best FIFA team of the year have been added as teams for FIFA Ultimate Team. These teams have also been added to the Home-
