I dont own the Ultra range.Articles Posted inLandslide Claims After a landslide off the coast of British Columbia, a six-year-old boy and his dog are safe and sound. They are being credited for their survival because they were outside playing in the yard when the slide happened. A passerby heard the boy calling for his dog. The boy was able to get to the creek and pull the dog out. The two ended up at a hospital. They will not require any further treatment. The boy and his dog will have to be monitored for any potential health concerns. Luckily, the boy and his dog were not injured. Based on information supplied, the slide struck just after noon on the 24th of August. According to officials, all is under control but they are still unsure of when the slide may reoccur. Members of a small sewer and watermain pipeline crew were installing a pipeline down a road when they were struck by a truck while working in the road. The driver of the truck was using a cellphone at the time of the crash. The pipeline crew members were killed and the driver of the truck is being held on dangerous driving charges. Police believe the truck driver ran a red light and was texting at the time of the crash. The tow truck driver has lost the use of his arm due to serious injuries. He was only on the job for three weeks. The small service was being installed to help alleviate the pressure of the sub-division near the city limits. The city has asked that residents avoid the area during the construction.
