In my CFC I have a component that sets a session cookie to indicate the user is logged in. That cookie value is then used to determine if the user is authorized to access certain pages. If the user is not authorized to access those pages, I set another cookie to log them off. This all works fine. Now, later on, I want to change the value of the second cookie to indicate that the user is not authorized to access those pages. I'm using the value set in the first cookie to determine if it's allowed to change the value of the second cookie. However, it doesn't seem to work. If I set the cookie value to "foo", access the page, and then modify the cookie value to "bar", the new value of the cookie is not being applied. If I set the cookie value to "bar" to begin with, the new value is being applied on access. This seems very odd, as I'm setting the cookie value using set
