It's a nice app but I just want to remove the writing part. Only the ability to mark private notes. They don't need to see my private messages, names, urls, etc. It's an asinine app. Don't waste time. Limited functionality I'm looking for a way to keep my private stuff from the spouse. Does what it needs to do Not much about this app. I had used the old version a lot before they switched to this version. Probably something to do with the fact that this version is part of the Notebook suite so it could be using other apps. Not sure, but it is a pain to use. I have the old version which uses a lot of space. This version looks great and I feel it has a better UI, but it is not really usable. I can see in reviews that people use this app for editing, but the UI is so slow, it takes ages to get to the text area. I think if you are not doing much editing it is ok, but you really need to be working with it. Review from Google
