It is a known issue that the file name of a FileMaker platform deployment is automatically corrected to contain a leading dot (.), when a platform deployment with a dot in the file name is moved to a new location using the copy command. With the last release (V011) of the Activator, the name of the file was not automatically corrected when a platform deployment with a dot in the file name is moved. Activator is a server component that can be used as an agent or a framework to activate FileMaker databases that are not connected to the Internet. It does not require any server configuration, and it can be used remotely or on a local machine. Activator provides a simple interface for an administrator to deploy FileMaker databases (servers) on any platform, to any user who has a license for the software. Activator helps organizations and developers simplify the process of deploying a FileMaker system. Activator offers an easy method to deploy or activate FileMaker databases without needing to have a network infrastructure set up on-site. Activator also can be used to deploy databases on a Mac or Windows machine for a particular user, instead of a deployment on a centralized network server. Most of FileMaker's licensing and activation tools require the FileMaker database server to be accessible over the internet and FileMaker must be installed on a networked server. Through the use of an Activator, a FileMaker database can be installed on a standalone PC, without the need to connect the database to a networked server. In this version of Activator, changes were made to improve the reliability and performance of the installer. For example, the installer shows progress more frequently during the activation. The installer can now find and download a file more quickly. By default, Activator connects to a remote server to activate the FileMaker database.

i needed a reliable way to get fm6 to send data to fm7. i was considering xml and cwp calls, timed export/imports every minute, etc. but someone suggested troi activator and i cant speak highly enough of the solution. it was simple, simple, simple to set up on both sides of the filemaker divide. and it works across the network with the most incredible behind-the-scenes speed. what i ended up doing was setting up a bot machine that runs fm7 with the plug-in, and then the four fm6 machines that need to communicate with 7 have the plug-in installed. conclusions: these observations suggest that tissue plasminogen activator treatment of acute ischemic stroke within three hours of onset in doses of greater than or equal to 0.85 mg/kg is attended by a risk of intracerebral hemorrhage approximating 17% (range 3-44%, 95% confidence interval). the rate of early neurological improvement observed in this study was small but does not exclude an improvement over the natural history. future study with placebo control subjects and stratification by time to treatment is indicated. conclusions: these observations suggest that tissue plasminogen activator treatment of acute ischemic stroke 91-180 minutes from onset in doses of greater than or equal to 0.85 mg/kg is attended by a risk of intracerebral hemorrhage approximating 17% (range 3-44%, 95% confidence interval). the
