i have a problem. when i press the right arrow button, the keyboard doesn't work at all. it works fine when i play in normal mode, but as soon as i go into game mode, my keyboard stops working. i have a logitech g45 and windows 7 64 bit. if you have a billion gold in your bank account, go buy a billion gold pack! well, if you don't have a billion gold, buy the billion dollar pack! i have the billion dollar pack, and this is the best thing ever. also, if you go to the store, buy the 2 billion dollar pack, and then buy the 30 billion dollar pack. that is the best pack ever. i have 4.9 gig gold, and 3000,000 gold. and it has been 500 years since the game started. i don't really care about it. if you have a billion dollars in your bank account, go buy a billion dollar pack. you can buy a pack for another pack, which is the best pack ever. also, you can buy a pack for 3000,000 gold. that is the best pack ever. the campaign starts on the same day that the candidate is announced and starts playing at the same time as the election on july 15th, and runs to the day of the election on july 22nd. there are 3 skill levels, bronze, silver, and gold, and two campaign modes, the campaign of the wanderer and the campaign of the statesman. in the campaign of the wanderer, you play as the candidate and must survive, navigate, and conquer a series of fortresses to win the game. the campaign of the statesman is a more challenging experience in which you play as an opponent who must protect the territories of your rivals from the candidate. in this mode, you need to find a balance between protecting your resources and protecting your enemies. both modes follow the same story, with one major difference: in the campaign of the statesman, every player controls a territory, while the campaign of the wanderer is restricted to a single player controlling the candidate, but when the campaign of the statesman plays out, all players control a territory, and a player can come to dominate the map.
