Cystinosis: the frequency of naturally occurring cystinuria in children. To evaluate the frequency of naturally occurring cystinuria in children and compare cystine levels in patient with and without known heterozygous mutations of the cystinuria gene. Urine samples (n = 658) of healthy children (median age 4 years. range 1-17 years) were analysed for cystine levels by fluorometric assay. A heterozygous cystinuria phenotype was defined as having a cystine level above 50 micro mol/mol creatinine and disease was diagnosed by the presence of cystine crystals in urine sediment. Of 658 analysed urine samples from children, 408 (61%) had cystine above 50 micro mol/mol creatinine and one child (0.15%) had cystinuria. The frequency of naturally occurring cystinuria in urine samples of the healthy children was 0.15% (95% confidence interval [95% CI] 0-0.3%). Only four of the 408 children (1%) were diagnosed with disease; no patient carried a known mutation. There was no significant difference in the frequency of cystine above 50 micro mol/mol creatinine in the children with and without heterozygous mutations (P = 0.07). Cystine levels in patients with a known heterozygous mutation of the cystinuria gene ranged from 9 micro mol/mol creatinine to 144 micro mol/mol creatinine (median 25 micro mol/mol creatinine). All but one of the children with a cystine level above 50 micro mol/mol creatinine were not diagnosed with cystinuria. Cystinuria is uncommon in the population of children examined in this study.Q: See if any of array values in particular loop stop the other loop I know how to do the whole loop but I have to do one loop and then a separate one. #### What's new:

Urban Decay's Undead is a layering of three of their longest - and usually highest-selling - products. Created for, and at the request of, the legions of zombie lovers out there, the combination of three of the company's foundations - let's call them their cornerstones - results in, what they claim, is a true urban/goth makeup kit. Supplies DESCRIPTION Urban Decay's Undead collection includes three Velvet Edges, one Lip Lacquer and one Pigment, all of which are included in this kit. There's several shades available, but I picked the hardest-to-find, single coat version of Essence of Dawn - even if it was just as effective on the more popular Ruby - from which the colours came. COSMETIC EFFECTS Let's get this out of the way first: I have no idea if these colours work on pale or dark skin, no idea how they'd look worn or over various products, and even less of an idea how they'd work in the heat. Urban Decay's Velvet Edges isn't a particularly complex formula; it doesn't include anything that goes beyond a matte finish, nor can it easily be worn over moisturizer. Rather, it was designed to, you know, be a velvety matte - which it can be. It applies quickly, which is a pleasant surprise. It does tend to look like too much, but it's easy to blend out, especially over dark lids. (Too much can leave that most dreaded zombie-eyed effect, however.) It has a little (very little) natural shine, and it's sort of a frosty grevish-gold even to non-vampires. The Vampire Lip Creams definitely fared better than the Matte Finish Foundation, but only slightly: the colour payoff was somewhat disappointing, and it was a bit pasty. Regardless, I think this works. It's a solid start to a good setup, and I suspect it has quite a lot of potential to be built upon, particularly if one of my reddish-brown-giantbrows is a bit more natural, and the super-narrow Velvets aren't quite as glossy as the thicker films would mean. I had this mixed review, and for the amount spent on the kit, I had
