As shown in the following image: A: I've downloaded Autodesk Inventor Architect 2011 for 32-bit Windows 7. Here is the file MD5: c40cc55ec6bd76f86e8d7e2f36ba4ee9 I've compared it with Autodesk Inventor Architect 2011 for 64-bit Windows 7. Here is the file MD5: 3ecbdb4c13f72866ebc4b8c4e0ad7fbc These two files are identical. And then I've compared all the Autodesk Architect 2011 files with Autodesk Architect 2011 file to see which was the original autocad inventor. Here is the MD5 for all Autodesk Architect 2011 files: 22c6661e8f1353cae9f33c41f80c47be This is the MD5 of the file you've downloaded: 5e796a3554d1836c8957e4c3f84330e0 This two values are equal. So the original autocad inventor is Autodesk Architect 2011 for 32-bit Windows 7. Planting Southeast Asia's first tea tree grows in a suburb of Paris. Environmentalists say the cutting down of 1.5 million mature trees to plant 150 million new saplings is an act of ecological destruction at a scale never seen before. In the suburbs of Paris, groups of French environmentalists are rallying to stop the world's biggest tree-planting campaign. The goal: plant two billion trees in the next five years in order to reverse the environmental degradation that threatens rainforests and the climate. But French environmentalists say the world-wide initiative amounts to ecological destruction. "You're talking about a million trees chopped down in a few weeks, in hundreds of thousands of hectares," says ENS, a French environmental association. The environmentalists' argument is simple: 150 million new saplings could be planted in an area the size of Belgium in one year, they say. "We're talking about 1,000 hectares of land," says Philippe Duran, head of ENS's urban forestry department. Greenpeace France says the effort, led by the World Resources Institute, a Washington-based think tank,
