He had to dig deeper to find the accident report, which showed the driver had a history of domestic abuse. The incident happened last month at the Deer Creek Road and Boca Raton Road intersection. The intersection is right outside the Aurora Treatment Center, which is known for treating domestic violence. "Only the victim could afford the treatment," said Alissa Voorhees, the Executive Director of Aurora Treatment Center. Dr. Voorhees said the suspect in the accident, 48-year-old William Antonelli, has a history of domestic abuse. He was briefly arrested for domestic battery in 2008. Voorhees also said this is not the first time that Antonelli has been charged with domestic abuse. Antonelli is facing a misdemeanor domestic battery charge for this incident. The police report shows the victim swerved to avoid hitting the vehicle as Antonelli ran into traffic. "I just felt so bad for the victim, and I just thought it was really important," said Voorhees. "I was in shock, like, what does this person do? This person has been to my facility." Voorhees said the victim was able to provide more information after the incident

. working if you have a good computer software. It is utilized and tested by lots of people. Download Elcomsoft Wireless Security Auditor Professional 5.1.271 :Q: Get most frequent words from string with REGEX I have a need to get the most frequent words from a text string and place it on a table. So far I have a working Regex for finding the exact words but it only works if every single word is the same. I would like to be able to get the most frequent words from the text string so if there are different words, it should return the single most frequent word. Example: string: "Hello, my name is John, do you know Bob?" Expected result: $name = "Bob"; $city = "John"; There can be more than one most frequent word in the string. A: function getMostFrequentArray($text) { $words = preg_split('/\s+/', $text); sort($words); return array_slice($words, 0, count($words)-1); } print_r(getMostFrequentArray("Hello, my name is John, do you know Bob?")); //Array ([0] => my [1] => name [2] => know) Tested it on PHP 5.3.8 A: Solution: $text = "Hello, my name is John, do you know Bob?"; preg_match_all("/[a-z0-9]+/i", $text, $matches); returns: array 0 => array 0 => string 'Bob' (length=4) 1 => array 0 => string 'John' (length=5) Makes the decision of word inclusion case insensitive as well. A: There is a great regular expression for doing this (anonymous function): \w+|\b(?:\w+)?([\w\.\.]+) It looks for 1 or more word characters (\w+), or possibly a space/word boundary (\b), then optionally 1 or more word characters, 6d1f23a050
